For Homestay Hosts Providing Homestay
Accommodation for the University of Leeds

2021 - 2023

The 2021 - 2023 Unipol Code

For Homestay Hosts providing Homestay Accommodation for the University of Leeds

The purpose of the Unipol Code is to enable homestay providers and student occupiers to agree a set of undertakings about how they wish to do business with one another.

The criteria in the Code have been chosen to reflect a balance of common sense obligations and responsibilities between homestay providers and student occupiers and set standards which are achievable by without significant expenditure of time and money and without prejudice to their respective legal rights.

The Unipol Code does not require that the property complies with the Local Authority's minimum standards for Houses in Multiple Occupation. The Code does, however, complement and support those standards and provides a set of performance criteria in the area of housing management, maintenance and good practice. Compliance with this Code does not mean that a particular property complies with the Local Minimum Standards

Compliance with the Code will ensure that:

- Both homestay providers and student occupiers enjoy the benefit of good standards of housing management and practice.
- Misunderstandings and disputes are reduced.
- Where problems do occur they are promptly resolved.

Adoption of the Code by a homestay provider is voluntary. Making a commitment to abide by the Code is a serious matter and a failure to meet such a commitment is a breach of faith. Unipol checks homestay providers every two years for the purpose of ascertaining compliance with the Code and occupiers can complain where they feel a breach has occurred. Information showing that homestay providers are not complying with the Code is in the public domain and will remain accessible for three years even if the homestay providers leaves, or is removed from the Code. This code cycle will run from 1st August 2021 - 31st July 2023.

Homestay providers Undertake to:

Homestay providers therefore undertake to: Maintain courteous professional relations with occupants during any dispute.

COMPLAINTS

- 7.00 Where a complaint under the Unipol Code is contested, then the Homestay provider shall recognise the authority of the Unipol Code Tribunal, which s/he recognises under the Code to determine whether the Code, agreed by them, has been breached and to make recommendation/s to the homestay provider in accordance with its views. In the event that such recommendations are not followed by the Homestay provider then the Homestay provider will be deemed in breach of the Code and this fact will be made public to prospective student occupiers. The Unipol Code Tribunal will have the authority to exclude any Homestay provider from the Code for a period as determined or indefinitely.

Note for tenants:

The principle aim of the Unipol Code complaints procedure is to resolve complaints efficiently. Before commencing the procedure, it is recommended that students attempt to resolve any problems by contacting the Homestay provider in the first instance. If this is not successful, students should contact Unipol for assistance. Completed complaint forms should be submitted only after all other lines of negotiation have been exhausted. This judgement will in the first instance be made by the Unipol Codes Administrator who is charged with operating the system. In the event of a dispute, this will be a matter for a ruling by the Chair of the Tribunal. If you are a parent or relative of a student you must attach written authority from the student concerned stating that you are authorised to make a complaint on their behalf.

HOUSING HEALTH AND SAFETY RATING SYSTEM

Schedule One - Housing Health and Safety Ratings System

The condition of all housing is now subject to Part 1 of the Housing Act 2004 and the evidence based risk assessment process of the Housing Health and Safety Rating System (HHSRS), on which local authorities must now base enforcement decisions. This applies to all types of residential premises, whether or not any amenities are shared.

Following a complaint, or for any other reason, a local authority may arrange to inspect premises to determine whether a category 1 or 2 hazard exists.

HHSRS assesses twenty-nine categories of housing hazard - Damp & mould growth; Excess cold; Excess heat; Asbestos (and MMF); Biocides; Carbon Monoxide and fuel combustion products; Lead; Radiation; Uncombusted fuel gas; Volatile Organic Compounds; Crowding and space; Entry by intruders; Lighting; Noise; Domestic hygiene, Sanitation and Drainage; Water supply; Falls associated with baths etc; Falling on level surfaces etc; Falling on stairs etc; Falls between levels; Electrical hazards; Fire; Flames, hot surfaces etc; Collision and entrapment; Explosions; Position and operability of amenities etc; Structural collapse and falling elements. Technical assessment is a two-stage process, addressing first the likelihood of an occurrence and then the range of probable harm outcomes. These two factors are combined using a standard method to give a score in respect of each hazard. HHSRS does not provide a single score for the dwelling as a whole or, in the case of multiply occupied dwellings, for the building as a whole.

The scores from different hazards cannot be meaningfully aggregated. There is no strong evidential basis for aggregating hazard scores, and to attempt to do this would make far more difficult the assessment of likelihood and spread of harm of hazards. However, the presence of a number of individual category 2 hazards may be a factor in an authority's decision to take action.

Hazards are scored in bands, from band A, the most severe, to band J. The relationship between these bands and category 1 and category 2 is prescribed in Regulations made under the Act. Category 1 hazards are those rated in bands A-C. Category 2 hazards are those rated band D and lower. Category 1 hazards trigger a local authority's duty under section 5 to take the appropriate enforcement action. Category 2 hazards can be dealt with under the authority's discretionary powers, which are set out in section 7.

The 2004 Act gives local authorities powers to intervene where they consider housing conditions to be unacceptable, on the basis of the impact of health and safety hazards on the most vulnerable potential occupant. The 2004 Act puts authorities under a general duty to take appropriate action in relation to a category 1 hazard. Where they have a general duty to act, they must take the most appropriate of the following courses of action:

- serve an improvement notice in accordance with section 11
- make a prohibition order in accordance with section 20
- serve a hazard awareness notice in accordance with section 28
- take emergency remedial action under section 40 or make an emergency prohibition order under section 43
- make a demolition order under section 265 of the Housing Act 1985 as amended
- declare a clearance area by virtue of section 289 of the 1985 Act as amended.

MEAL PROVISION

As often as possible meals should be home cooked. Ready/microwave meals are not acceptable but hosts may wish to occasionally provide takeaways. Meals should broadly follow the guidelines shown below fitting in with your usual household diet. Participants will expect to have the same meals as others in the household and to eat with them. The Language Centre encourages hosts and participants cooking together or for hosts to encourage participants to cook a traditional dish for the family during their stay.

If for any reason, the participant cannot eat with the host, the participant must inform the host who will be expected to keep a meal in the fridge for the participant's return and allow facilities to heat it. The host is not required to heat and serve a meal in these circumstances.

Breakfast: Monday to Friday - students might be offered fruit juice, tea or coffee, cereal, yoghurt, toast with butter and jam or marmalade or a cooked egg. At weekends students might be offered a cooked English breakfast.

Evening meal: This should be the main meal of the day to include meat, poultry, fish or cheese, or a suitable equivalent. If you are a vegetarian family and do not wish to prepare meat or fish then you must inform the student of this before arrival so they accept this as part of their visit.

Weekends are full board and will require the provision of lunch (or a packed lunch, if required).

Income Tax

Gross annual income from letting furnished accommodation which currently does not exceed £7,500 per annum, is exempt from income tax (correct as of 6 April 2017). This reduces to £3,750 if someone else receives income from letting accommodation in the same property, such as a joint owner. The limit is the same even if you let accommodation for less than 12 months. It is unlikely that payments from Language Centre student placements will exceed this amount; however, if you regularly host participants from other institutions you may be affected by this limit. Please contact the Revenue and Customs if you require further information about this.

Hosting students from other agencies

If a family is hosting juniors (under 18s) from another organisation they have to be aware that University of Leeds Homestay international students have not been DBS checked.

I/We Acknowledge and agree that: _____

I/we wish to join the Unipol Code for Homestay Hosts Providing Homestay Accommodation for the University of Leeds ("the Code") from the date of this declaration until 31st July 2023, and that I/we agree to meet all the terms and conditions of the Code and abide by the regulatory mechanisms and complaints procedure as stated in the Code and available from the Unipol website.

I/we further declare that my/our conduct will be in line with that outlined in the Code.

In consideration for being permitted to join the Code, I/we agree and undertake to pay a fee of £68 to join the Code and any future Code fees, including any additional fees as follows:

- A. In the case of inspections, if issues are identified, a timetable for any works of procedures is agreed and then, dependent on the nature of the findings, a re-inspection may be required. During this short re-inspection, the Accreditation Officer/Inspector will check that the required work has been completed to the expected standard. Accreditation Officer/Inspectors are instructed to wait at the property for 15 minutes after the appointed time, after which the appointment is considered broken and the £50 (inclusive of VAT) fee will apply.

I/we understand that information about my Code status is in the public domain and will be accessible to all those using Unipol's web system and will remain accessible for up to three years regardless of my future membership of the Code.

I/we accept that Unipol and its affiliated business partners may use my personal information for the purpose of administering the Code, providing services, administration, and training and may disclose information to its service providers and agents for these purposes. If my personal details or the properties I/we own/manage changes I/we agree to inform Unipol.
